HOW TO USE in your program

Print & ready-to-go – have packets on hand throughout the year for students to grab with each project

Instant guardrails for every project – forms ensure students think ahead before they do each step, allowing you to serve as a mentor on the side while they lead

Projects big and small – packets work for everything from planning assemblies, dances, service projects, or whatever else your students dream up!

Grading is a snap! – students submit one project packet with everything start-to-finish, including universal rubrics that work for any project!

How-to guides for future groups – file packets away for future years to look over for guidance and ideas

“ These templates kept my leadership students on track with their projects. They were able to plan everything and present their ideas to our principal. It really gave them a sense of pride and comfortability in their work. – Hannah D. ”

WHAT OTHER ADVISORS ARE

are saying

This is a meaningful and authentic way to encourage leadership and school community by the students themselves. We worked out the system for a fall event, and I foresee using the process now for all of the events we plan this year. – Rebecca C.

This has been a super helpful resource, especially for students who have difficulty planning all the little details and understanding the true meaning behind their projects. Love the reflection piece at the end. Thank you!
– Natalie G.

This allowed my students to plan projects to enjoy with one another and sharpen their organizational and public speaking skills. It helped give structure and accountability to their work and helped them make sure everything was in order before and during their projects. Thank you! – Fellow TPT Seller
